FOR LOYALTY - AND WHY

The outcome of the so-called civil rights battle in Congress, lasting almost two months, much of the time in round-the-clock sessions, has proved once again the wisdom of the South remaining within the framework of the Democratic party even though we do not always get everything we want.

But neither did the bill's sponsors get everything they wanted - the very opposite, in fact. Illinois Democrat Paul Douglas was distressed. Pennsylvania's Democrat Joe Clark outdid all the melodrama by telling how he had endured his "awful" to the South's chief strategist, Richard Russell of Georgia.

Had it not been for the fact that Southern Senators were within the framework of the organized Senate Democratic majority, holding the chairmanships of many of the most Senate key committees, they would have been helpless. To have done otherwise would have been the same as if your representative on the Board of County Commissioners were to withdraw from active participation with the other commissioners in county affairs and simply cast yea or nay votes on motions made by the other members.

Therefore, The Elba Clipper wants to see Alabama stay within the framework of the Democratic party. The Elba Clipper favors full and complete support of the Democratic party including its nominee in the approaching presidential election. We believe that is the sentiment of the majority of the voters in Coffee county because the Coffee County Democratic Executive Committee in the past has remained stoutly Loyalist when other parts of Alabama broke away. We hope that the Alabama delegation to the Democratic National Convention will not cast a single vote at any time for John Fitzgerald Kennedy for presidential nominee but if he is nominated (perish the thought) we still favor the party and its nominee barring some unforeseen reversal of conditions as they now exist.

This means that we favor the Loyalist slate of Democratic electors in the primary May 3. This slate is composed of the following 11 candidates: C. G. Allen of Gadsden, Senator Dave Archer of Huntsville, C. E. "Leonard" Board of Sheffield, J. E. "Doc" Brantley of Banks, W. L. "Bill" Chennault of Decatur, Milton K. Cummings of Huntsville, Karl Harrison of Columbiana, Bill Jones of Jasper, William D. Partlow of Tuscaloosa, Ben F. Ray of Birmingham and D. Hardy Riddle of Talladega.

This means that we are opposed to the States Rights slate composed of Edmund Blair of Pell City, Frank M. Dixon of Birmingham, Senator Walter C. Givhan of Safford, Bruce Henderson of Prairie, C. B. Hovins, Jr., of Centerville, Sam M. Johnson of Mobile, W. W. Malone, Jr., of Athens, Lawrence E. McNeil of Birmingham, John D. McQueen, Jr., of Tuscaloosa, Frank J. Mizell, Jr., of Montgomery, and John P. Newsome of Birmingham.

There are others who have been unwilling to commit their sentiments with either Loyalist or States Rights sentiments and we are even more opposed to them on that account. They are Cecil G. Brown of Roanoke, Kenneth R. Cain of Gadsden, Russell H. Carter of Montgomery, Warren K. Cleghorn of Montgomery, George R. Coburn of Prattville, John G. "Always Running For Something" Crommelin of Wetumpka, Mrs. Melvin Dasinger of Coosa, Frank E. Dixon of Gadsden, Senator Carl Gideon of Fort Deposit, E. H. H. Maxwell of Tuscaloosa, P. Clint Mills of Prattville, Thomas H. Scott of Gretna, Raymond M. Sharpe of Evergreen and Lowell A. Tyson of Anniston.

—Your Vote Is Important—

Let not the voters of Coffee county have their attention so riveted upon the approaching presidential primary that they lose sight of the fact that in the election next Tuesday they will choose county officers who will handle a million dollars of their money the next four years.

Five days remain for them to discuss with their friends and neighbors who the best men are. The Elba Clipper does not presume to advise them on this point because the voters should know the qualities of their fellow citizens who are candidates. Study each candidate's qualifications from the standpoint of his ability to manage, his business experience, and of equal importance, his moral character.

Let each voter resolve not only to cast his ballot seriously but to demand a clean election on the part of every one concerned; to report to proper authorities any infractions of legal processes of government at a time when the eyes of the world are upon elections in the South. Let us leave no room for criticism.

There may be contests on the ballot with which you are not familiar. Then pass this contest by. Worse than not voting at all is to vote in a contest with which you are not familiar, just for the sake of voting. Your ballot will be counted even though you vote only in a single contest.

Vote as you please, but vote. The man or woman who fails to vote thereby forfeits his (or her) right to complain about the conduct of public affairs.

Ensign Bob Folsom Completes Antarctic Cruise; Talks to Elba From Polar Area

Navy Ensign Robert B. Folsom is scheduled to complete today a five-month cruise into the Antarctic during which he often talked with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Folsom in Elba by telephone and short wave radio hookup.

The parents, surrounded by green grass and blooming flowers in the warm sunshine in Elba, would hear their son's voice across three-fourths the length of the world say: "It's 90 degrees below zero, the ship is being moved with snow and it's still snowing."

As if that wasn't enough the last time he talked with his parents in March, this year, he said: "Well, be breaking camp soon because the Southern Hemisphere winter is closing in and if we don't get away in time we'll be frozen in."

The warmest weather at any time during their stay in the Antarctic "Summer" was 33 degrees below zero. At one time they made a trip inland to the base used by Admiral Byrd's expedition in 1926.

Ensign Folsom was married just before leaving on the five-month cruise and since then the bride has been staying at her parents' home in Columbus, Ga., but left early this week to meet him when his ship arrives in Norfolk.

The conversations between Elba and the Antarctic would be carried out by short wave from his ship to a "ham" radio operator based at Elizabeth, N. J., Dallas, Tex., or New Orleans who would plug in the telephone to the radio set.

Ensign Folsom served aboard the cargo ship USS Ames which traveled more than 28,000 miles, greater than the distance around the world.

Elba Pastor Goes To Chaplains Meet

The Rev. Ralph R. Hendricks, pastor of the Elba Methodist Church, is attending a Convention of the Military Chaplains Association at Annapolis, Md. Tuesday through Thursday, April 26-28. Mr. Hendricks holds a lieutenant's commission in the U. S. Navy Reserve.

Mr. Hendricks traveled to Atlanta by automobile and from there by plane with a group of Southern chaplains to Annapolis.

HOME AGENTS VISIT
The schedule of visits next week by the County Home Demonstration Agents follows: Kinston club house, Thursday, April 28, 2 p.m.; Damascus, Mrs. Randolph Crosby, May 2, 2 p.m.; Victoria club house, Tuesday, May 3, 2 p.m.; Chestnut Grove club house, Wednesday, May 4, 2 p.m.; Mt. Glenn, Mrs. Willie Bowden, Thursday, May 5, 2 p.m.

2 1/2 FEET OF NAMES FACE VOTERS HERE

A list of names two and a half feet long will confront voters of Coffee county when they go to the polls next Tuesday for the first of two Democratic primary elections set for this month.

The first names on the ballot are for U. S. Senator, Zerk C. Calhoun, John G. Crommelin, and the incumbent, John Sparkman. In that order, followed by the Alabama Policy Service Commission with Roy T. Kins, C. G. Jack, Owen Ed. Pappas and Robert E. Lee. Served in that order; for Democratic National Committee, between Eugene Bull Connor and C. W. Charles McKay, Jr. and Democratic National Committee member from Mrs. J. A. Gladys King, Burns and Mrs. Wyatt (Ruth Johnson) Owens.

Then will follow almost two feet of names for presidential electors and delegates to the National Democratic Convention. There is no division between the listings of Loyd, States Rights and Independents so persons wishing to vote such a division have been advised to take the list of names with them to the polls.

The contest in which top interest centers here will be found at the conclusion of the second column, right hand side where will be listed: County Superintendent of Education, between R. Leamon Farris and Carol E. Peacock;

Tax Assessor between Thomas E. Bowden, Fred McKeay, J. Albert Dyess and Rex A. Long; County Commissioner, District 1, between Eugene Brown, J. Albert Dyess and Rex A. Long; County Commissioner, District 2, between Buster Bowden, J. Albert Dyess and Rex A. Long; County Commissioner, District 3, between Fred Meacham and Flournoy Whitman;
